Back To School Date Is Sept. 11

School begins Tuesday, September 11, for 15,647 school students in the Jefferson Union High School and Elementary districts.

About 1,400 freshmen and other new students in the high school district met Tuesday, September 5, for pre-registration and orientation and testing.

Jefferson High School is the biggest thorn in the side of the district with an unfinished football field, due to construction set-backs. Shop class rooms are also unfinished, causing additional difficulties.

On the bright side of the picture, the brand new Oceana High School makes its debut in Pacifica with 700 freshmen and sophomores.

Westmoore will have 1,800 students and Terra Nova will have 1,000 students. Jefferson will enroll 1,500.

Enrollment Increase

Elementary school attendance will begin at somewhere around 9,300 students. The attendance figure will probably hit 9,572 by mid-year. Last year the elementary school district enrolled 9,050 children.

The high school district enrollment will jump from last year's total of 4,300 to an all-time high of 5,075.

According to high school district business manager Fred Goodell, total district high school enrollments rise about 500 per year, necessitating the creation of a new high school every few years.

El Camino and South San Francisco high schools will run a combined total of 2,400 students. This is 175 more than last year. South San Francisco's unified district will have 11,000 enrolled for classes in both elementary and high school. The figure is about 700 students higher than at the peak last year.

Registration for Holy Angel's Grammar School of Religion will take place Saturday, September 15. About 400 pupils will be enrolled.

Classes began Tuesday, September 4, at Our Lady of Perpetual Help School in Daly City with 394 students. Our Lady of Mercy School started September 4 with 650 students.

South San Francisco elementary schools expect a population of 8,600. This is an increase of 500 over 1961.

Police Tackle Gun-Waving SSF Gardener

Adrenalin glands undoubtedly came into play September 4 as Daly City police officers William Schumacher and Robert Stables tackled a would-be gunman and took his .32 caliber pistol away from him.

Arrested on assault with a deadly weapon charges was Quillery T. Couch, 69, 146 Gardiner avenue, South San Francisco, who gave his occupation as gardener.

A Yellow Cab driver had summoned Daly City police with the complaint that Couch was giving him difficulty. After some hesitation, due to the man's apparent intoxicated condition, Couch gave his address as San Pedro road.

When Daly City officers Schumacher and Stables drove Couch to Old San Pedro road and then asked for his identification, in order to take him to his residence, Couch drew

Park Supervisor Creates A Green Legend

PARK SUPERVISOR August Conci of Daly City stands next to trees and shrubs he planted at Marchbanks Park.

By JACK WOOD

"I had a dream . . . long ago when I was a kid. I saw how the Daly City area would look 20 years from then with green parks."

These words are from that man in the slouchy hat you often see watering the lawn in front of the War Memorial Building in Daly City, Parks Superintendent, August Conci.

His pride is his work. And although he prefers to give much credit to others, his landscaping of Daly City parks and playgrounds will always stand as a living monument to a job well done.

First Park System

Conci planted the grass and the trees for the first unit of Marchbanks Park in 1940. This was the first park system of Daly City.

After that he oversaw the development of Lincoln, Frankfort, Edgeworth parks and when the city acquired Westlake, developed Northridge park, the green buffers on the Alemany stops from Junipero to Skyline and the palm trees on Mission street.

Westmoor Park, his latest project, will be completed this year.

Conci cares for about 100 acres of park system in Daly City. Under his personal wing are about 10,000 trees and shrubs.

Trees Increased Value

Marchbanks Park alone has 3,300 trees. And Conci remarked "We bought all those trees at 10 cents apiece—the state now has set this park value at $750,000."

Daly City runs its park system on a budget of $132,000 of which $62,000 go to salaries for Conci and his eight helpers. His department also maintains all public buildings.

Conci's staff of seven groundmen and one utility man are under the supervision of city engineer William Chapman.

Conci related some of the past history of the parks system.

"The total cost of planting Marchbanks park was $8,000.

Sells Idea

"I wanted to convince (city officials) Paul Selmi, mayor Edward Cavaganaro and Jack Fahey and Henry Sundermann. I wanted to sell the idea for this park."

Conci, who admits he "has been in the business 40 years—since I was a kid," grew up working around the Lake Merced nursery on Junipero Serra boulevard. His father, Pete Conci, was a native of Italy and moved to the Daly City area in 1895. Conci's niece is Nancy Angelot, Miss Daly City.

A man who believes a man's pride is his work. August

Mercy High School Guild To Meet, Sept. 13

Mrs. Dennis Smith will preside at the Mercy High Guild meeting on Thursday evening, Sept. 13, at 8 p.m. in Rist Hall.

Sister Mary Martin, principal, will welcome the members and introduce the faculty. Mrs. John Bruns will discuss plans for an exotic luncheon and fashion show, "Hong Kong Holiday," to take place at the school on Saturday, Oct. 20.

Westlake's H. Liebes will stage some of the season's most exciting new designs at the annual affair, proceeds from which will benefit the school's building fund. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Edward McGough, SE 1-1836, or Mrs. Vincent O'Connor, LO 6-7168.

The meeting will close with refreshments in the school cafeteria.

a nickel-plated revolver.

In a wink, Schumacher tackled Couch, and Stables handcuffed him and took the gun away from him.

Couch later told police he thought the policemen were sailors and he had once been "rolled" by sailors.

Daly City Lieut. David Hansen commended the officers on the arrest. "I think they handled the situation very well, under the circumstances," Hansen said.

"After all, they could have shot him."

Fog Blamed For Accident

A truck driver and two motorists were injured about 7:15 a.m. Aug. 29 when their vehicles collided in dense fog at Edgemar and John Glenn drives.

Treated at Junipero Serra hospital were Andrew Micheletti, 27, of 3601 Exeter drive, San Bruno. Back sprain.

He is employed by the Daly City Scavenger company and was driving a company truck. Teddy L. Payne, 23, of San Francisco, cuts and abrasions of the face and body.

Richard R. Safley, 25, a San Francisco policeman off duty, abrasions and contusions. Daly City police said Micheletti was turning into Edgemar from John Glenn when the collision occurred.

Body Thrown

said she and McClelland separated in March, 1961, and that she moved to Modesto. The last she knew of him, she told officers, he was working for West Coast Carnivals.

McClelland, a World War II paratrooper, had a six-page "rap" sheet, showing arrests, mostly for drunkeness and vagrancy from coast to coast. His latest arrest was in Los Angeles in November. McClelland's body was found Sunday by a fisherman, Mark Gonzalez, 26, of San Francisco.

He told officers he was walking along Cabrillo highway and saw the body lying on a slope 17 feet from the roadway.

Park Supervisor

"Augie" Conci says "A man's work is number one. You have to live it, breath it and hear it. Life is like a mirror. You get out of it what you put into it."

Cooperation

A large portion of his success in park work, Conci says, is due to the cooperation and help he receives from Charles Vincent, director of recreation and William Chapman, city engineer and head of the public works department.

Conci believes that Henry Doelger has done a first class job in his realization of Westlake. "You don't see apartments and homes like this anywhere else," he stated.

A believer in the "natural" affect in landscaping, Conci pointed out that Marchbanks Park was created from all natural trees and shrubs and made to blend into the landscape, creating a natural bowl.

The Daly City parks system, he said, is one of the best kept park systems in the County of San Mateo. "We have the best baseball diamonds."

The landscaping jobs undertaken by Conci are almost too numerous to mention — War Memorial Community Center, Lincoln Park Clubhouse, Niantic Street pumphouse.

However, it should give Mr. Conci a good deal of pride, as he said, to know that he is, indeed leaving behind a legend in green—one that the future generations can enjoy—"a living monument."

ALEC To Celebrate Birthday By Giving Gifts To Everyone

ALEC Membership Shopping Center will celebrate its first birthday this Saturday, Sept. 8, with a 175-pound cake—in the shape of the ALEC store at 255 D street, Colma—and balloons, music and, for the children, a visit by television's "Mayor Art" Finley.

On the actual date that ALEC opened a year ago, Sept. 7, president Alec Land will host a party for children who were born a year ago Friday.

Throughout the month, members of ALEC will win "Birthday Presents from ALEC" if they find their membership numbers among those posted throughout the multi-department store. Non-members will be welcome to shop at ALEC, September 6-9, as a present from ALEC.

The huge cake will be cut Saturday—and should be sufficient to serve just about everyone who goes to ALEC Saturday to help celebrate the birthday.

Mayor Art will be in the store from 1 to 3 p.m. to entertain youngsters and pass out small gifts of his own.

Sharing in the birthday celebration will be a new service station opening this week in the ALEC parking lot, for members only.

The troop ended the year in June with a Brownie Tea and Fly-Up Ceremony at the Parkview Girl Scout House, with about 50 relatives and friends attending. During the summer the troop spent an enjoyable day at the San Francisco Zoo and also had another afternoon of roller skating.

On September 17, at 3:30 in the multi-use room of the Vista Grande School, the girls will have their first meeting following summer vacation. Mrs. Joseph LaBruzzo, Mrs. William Bradshaw and Mrs. William Gfroerer are the leaders of the troop.

Girls in the troop are Dorothy Barragan, Kathleen Bradshaw, Ninette Buntain, Mary Ann Ciernick, Susanne Coleman, Jeannine Fierde, Gail Ganske, Dianne Gfroerer, Jennifer Golden, Christine Gomez, Colleen Halloran, Judith LaBruzzo, Susan Loveless, Dolly Lucia, Mary Purganan, Bonnie Steele and Barbara Yap.

Seventh-Grader Admits Thefts

A 12-year-old Benjamin Franklin School seventh grader has been arrested by Daly City police on burglary charges.

Police say the youth admitted taking a $200 coin collection and $100 camera from the Charles R. Luke residence, 56 Rockford, on August 24, and also stealing $25 in coins from the Dorie L. Murphy residence, 60 Rockford.

Youth Arrested On Manslaughter Charge

Gary Holst, 18, San Bruno, was arrested Tuesday on misdemeanor manslaughter charges in connection with the death in Peninsula Hospital of John F. Moore, 19, of San Mateo.

Moore was a passenger in a car driven by Holst, which Daly City officers chased on suspicion. The car had been stolen in Sunnyvale. The youths smashed into another car on Old Mission road in Colma.

BEGIN EARLY ON PLANS FOR COLLEGE, SAY EDUCATORS

WASHINGTON — If you're a high school senior this year and haven't yet applied for admission to the college you're interested in, you'd better get moving.

That's the latest word from educators, who say that November of your senior year is "the last safe date for application," particularly to a major college.

If you're a high school junior, you can start bracing for the college entrance tests you'll be bound to take this year. And if you're a younger student—even down to seventh grade—there are things you can do now to ensure a college education in your future.

According to the National Education Association, here are some things you can do to make sure you'll get into college:

Seventh Grade

Student, parent and school staff should work together on the academic goals to be met to qualify for college, including consideration of whether the student should go into any advanced classes the following year.

Eighth Grade

Decide on ninth-grade courses, which will begin to govern the type of college to which the student can apply.

What Can Parents Do?

Encourage each child to read widely, take him to the public library for library cards, set an example by their own reading habits.

Provide a well-lighted place where he can study, removed from distractions.

Make sure his course schedule, especially in the important 7-12 grade span, is suitable for his plans now, yet flexible enough to allow him to shift gears if he changes his mind.

Remember that your child needs rest and relaxation, too. Don't make him concentrate all his energies on study.

Don't insist he go to your college — it may not fit his needs at all.

SSF Rec Sponsors Square Dance Class

The South San Francisco Recreation Department, in conjunction with the Gingham Squares Square Dance Club, is sponsoring a new beginners' class, Wednesday, Sept. 5, at Avalon School, Dorado way, South San Francisco. The classes are from 8 to 10 p.m.

Don Shotwell, popular Bay Area caller, will conduct the classes.

Registration will be open for three weeks, September 5, 12 and 19. Those interested are invited to attend, observe and participate in this community sponsored recreation. The first night of attendance will be free, after which a very nominal fee will be charged.

Pipes were the only currency used by the Cree Indians.

Daytimers To Meet September 20

California Daytimers 715 B'nai B'rith Women will meet September 20 at noon at Ner Tamid Social Hall, 22nd avenue and Quintara street. Mrs. Abe Kay will preside.

A cost luncheon will be served for 75 cents per person. The program chairman will present an interesting surprise skit. Clean, usable merchandize will be appreciated for the annual November rummage sale sponsored by the Daytimers. For pickup, call Dorothy Drain, EV 6-7909, or Lillian Kay, SK 1-2083.

TV and RADIO

By Mona Baker

Steel blue, penetrating eyes, a warm smile and a firm handclasp — this was our first impression of Lloyd Bridges, star of CBS's new television series, "Kaiser Presents the Lloyd Bridges Show," which premieres over KPIX on September 11 at 8 p. m.

Without a doubt fine dramatic entertainment, the series is more than that. In a rather unique approach in television, many of the programs will stress the "Good American" image with documented stories of America's role in helping people of other countries.

In discussing the coming series, Bridges recalled that he hadn't "been too anxious to do another TV series" but the idea of the new program "was so exciting" he couldn't resist. He felt "it offers a real challenge."

Certainly the sponsors couldn't have selected a man better suited to the part. A fine actor, among his many film credits are "High Noon," "A Walk in the Sun," "Home of the Brave," and many others.

On television, besides the popular "Sea Hunt" series, he has appeared on such outstanding dramatic shows as "Philco Playhouse," "U. S. Steel Hour," "Playhouse 90," and others.

Well known in the Bay Area, he was born in San Leandro, and attended schools in San Francisco, San Rafael and Petaluma. He was graduated from Petaluma High School, where he had an outstanding record. Active in sports, participating in both football and basketball, he also was president of his senior class and a member of the honor society.

Sponsors of the new series is Kaiser Industries which has many interests abroad, ranging from factories in Brazil to plans and services in Africa, India, Australia and throughout Europe.

Since many of their executives travel abroad they became aware of America's activities in other nations. From this awareness evolved the idea of a television series dramatizing the positive accomplishments of America in promoting progress around the world. Although the entire series will not be based on this approach, many of the programs in the series will have this theme.

Do plan to watch the show each Tuesday evening. We're sure you'll find this enlightening as well as entertaining and exciting television if the first program which we previewed is any indication. It had us sitting on the edge of our chair until the climax.

Also do let the sponsor know that you enjoy the program. With the advent of telstar, there is need to present America in the best possible light so programs of high quality should be encouraged.

COUNTY DOINGS

by JACK WOOD

The tourist business will be considerable in San Mateo County and throughout California in coming years, according to the manager of the San Mateo County Convention Bureau.

Ken Brown, who recently visited a tourist promotion workshop at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco, noted that California has great and diverse tourist attractions, but hasn't carried on a vigorous program to publicize these atrtactions.

The state is the only one in the nation that has no state tourist agency and does not contribute to a private statewide agency promoting tourism.

It will be another 20 days before the San Mateo County board of supervisors make a final decision on the formation of the county's first flood control district.

Protests from officials in San Bruno, Daly City, Pacifica and Colma against inclusion in the project halted final determination.

Unincorporated lands and South San Francisco made up 80 per cent of the project area. Mayor Leo Ryan of South San Francisco urged the supervisors to continue with plans for creation of the district despite the withdrawal of the four other communities. The matter is set aside until September 25.

A Stanford educator, Dr. Dwight W. Allen, believes the fact that a million American teen-agers drop out of high school can be laid on the school's own doorstep.

Allen, assistant professor of education and co-director of Stanford's high school interim teacher training program, said that "schools haven't learned to distinguish academic merit and personal merit."

"With some teachers," he said, "students who succeed are the good guys and those who fail are the bad guys."

What's needed, he suggested, is more experimental programs in the schools to cope with drop-outs and individual problems in general.

Teachers Work To Improve Public Education

ASILOMAR — Roland W. Finken, Vice Principal, Laguna Salada School District, attended the eighth annual California Teachers Association (CTA) Presidents' Seminar here on August 26-29.

Finken, who is president of the Laguna Salada Education Association, said the three days of work sessions were designed to bring more than 500 CTA chapter presidents up to date on California education issues and association problems and goals. Special emphasis was placed on helping chapters to develop programs for improvement of instruction in their local school districts.

Featured speakers included Dr. Ralph Richardson, CTA-supported candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction; Hazel Blanchard, National Education Association (NEA) president; and Jack Robinson, CTA president.

Finken said the CTA, now nearly 100 years old, is supported by the voluntary dues of more than 123,000 members in all areas of professional service, primary grades through higher education.

Through their associations—chapter, CTA and NEA....California teachers work for a two-fold purpose: To promote and improve public education in the state and to advance the interests of the teaching profession, Finken said.

The View From .. Behind The Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

The shooting . . .

You are called at home, and you respond to the scene of the shooting. On the scene are two beatmen, patrolmen Munday and Hammermann. They are being assisted by Detective Doran.

Munday accompanies the deceased to the hospital, where death is pronounced. He continues on to the autopsy, along with deputy coroner Jessen. He witnesses this action, and is presented with the fatal projectile to preserve as evidence.

Sergeant Sundermann and Detective Bastedo take photos of the scene and of a vehicle which was involved.

Doran and Hammermann accompany the suspect to the station. It is there that he is interviewed by Deputy District Attorney Rowson and you. Hammerman employs himself with diagraming the scene. Doran embarks on a series of witness interviews.

A number of tape recorded statements are elicited from witnesses, including the suspect. You assemble and sift through an aray of fact and fiction. Patrolman de Losa is employed to assist Doran in interviewing.

Physical evidence which has been gleaned from the scene and the autopsy is marked, tagged, and recorded for future use.

The suspect is allowed a phone call to his attorney, and a cup of coffee. Rowson invests a number of cigarettes in the man's comfort.

You confer with Rowson and determine that the facts do not justify a murder accustation at this point. The suspect is released pending further investigation.

"Further investigation" means time employment for the ensuing eight days. It includes an extensive and exhaustive door-to-door neighborhood check by Munday and patrolman Gehringer. It includes daily (and multiple) telephone conferences with Rowson. It includes conversations with the two defense attorneys employed by the suspect.

Bastedo and you travel daily in a quest for background information. Witnesses, acquaintances, and relatives, both of the victim and of the suspect, are interviewed. A tip from an informant is checked out, with some success.

Captain Beecher's experienced guidance directs the investigation into profitable channels. Julio Guilardi, an Army investigator, renders invaluable assistance.

Communication (teletype, telephone, notes, letters) are employed, and save much actual physical travel. An incalculable number of man hours are invested in and expended upon the case.

And, as always, someone knows better. The Monday morning quarterbacks want to know why there was no booking. And there is a poison pen letter or two, from individuals too gutless to sign a name.

The answer, of course, is that you are endeavoring to build a prosecutable case. You are successful in doing this. Rowson and the investigators are on the firing line; they get the credit or the blame, as the case may be. The second guessers are doing so from newspaper stories and rumor, and while they are certainly free to comment, they are not responsible for results.

The case goes to the Grand Jury. Rowson is there on behalf of his case. District Attorney Sorenson and his chief criminal deputy, Robert Carey, are present and assisting. Ten witnesses testify. They include four of the investigators. Captain Beeches is on the scene.

The Grand Jury returns an indictment for involuntary manslaughter.

The suspect surrenders the next morning and is booked. He is transported to County Jail and booked there. Arraignment date is set, and he is freed on the posting of bail.

Now the case will go to Superior Court. Now the investigators can really get to work.

Personal Glimpses . . .

Patrolman James Sunderland celebrates his tenth anniversary with the Daly City police department. Jim and spouse, Ilse, have a son, Alfred, living at home.

Sunderland has worked a radio car section on all watches. He is presently assigned to the second platoon. For a number of years, this officer performed in the traffic division as a motorcycle officer. He has also been a San Francisco policeman and a San Mateo County sheriff's deputy.

This man is a gunnery sergeant in the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve. He served a peace-time cruise with the Marine Corps, returned for World War II, and was recalled for the Korean Conflict. He is just returning from summer training for this year.

Patrolman James Doran now has three years with the department. This officer is presently assigned to the second platoon, where he works a radio car section. He has just completed a tour of duty with the detective division.

Jim has attended both San Francisco City College and the University of San Francisco. He and wife Anna have three sons at home. They are twins James and Richard, three years old, and Mark, who is one year old.

Patrolman Dennis Sheehy has completed two years of service with the department. Bachelor Dennis is 24, and a native of San Francisco.

Sheehy is a graduate of the College of San Mateo Recruit School, and has worked in the radio cars on all watches. He is presently assigned to the third platoon.

A college level elementary Spanish course carrying four units of lower division credit will be among the 17 courses in some five different modern languages offered in the fall semester at the Evening College of the College of San Mateo beginning on September 11.

Exactly parallel in content and method to the course being offered by the college in its day program, Spanish 1 will meet Tuesday and Thursday evenings for a total of five hours per week.

The course will include work in conversation, translation, and grammar, with use of taped readings recorded by native speakers. Instructor of the course will be Ronald Kaufman, a member of CSM's day faculty and former director of the Instituto Hondureno de Culturs Interamericana, Tegucigalpa, Honduras.

The Evening College also offers non-credit courses in conversational French, German, Italian, Russian, and Spanish, most of them at both the beginning and the intermediate level.

MANY BEGINNING and advanced typing classes are scheduled in the Jefferson Adult Evening School. Here young students learn to type under the watchful eye of instructor Tony Harcar.

High School Diploma Program Offered At Jeff Adult School

When the Adult Evening School opens its doors next week more than 450 adults will begin a program leading to a high school diploma.

According to Louis J. Martin, principal, the demand and registration for classes carrying high school credit doubled last spring. Last summer more than 60 persons received their high school diploma. Many completed the required 150 units of district and state requirements. If you are interested in this program, call PL 5-1162 for more information. Appointments with the principal may be made in the different adult schools by contacting the secretaries after 7 p. m., Monday through Thursday.

If adults have had previous high school credit, or satisfactory work experience of an educational nature or have successfully completed GED tests with a score of 35 or better, they may be closer to a high school diploma than they realize.

Graduation from the Adult Evening School is based on the satisfactory completion of 150 units of district and state requirements.

The state requires 30 units of English, 20 units of United States history, and civic government, 10 units of science, 10 units of mathematics, 5 units of driver education and first aid and 75 units of elective subjects.

Two Peninsula teachers have completed the San Francisco State college course, Care of the Sick and Injured, and have received Red Cross instructor certificates. Mrs. George McNutt, 150 Coronado avenue, Daly City, home economics teacher at Hillsdale High School, and Miss Carol Jean Bruno, 55 Aviador avenue, Millbrae, were certificated.

Miss Bruno is a teacher at Taylor junior high school in Millbrae.

Course content included care of the sick and injured in a home situation and under emergency or disaster conditions. This is the same course as given in Golden Gate Chapter of Red Cross throughout the year at San Mateo region, 1449 Bellevue avenue, Burlingame. Registered nurses teach the courses.

Burlingame Dog Obedience Classes

Registration for the fall session of the Burlingame dog obedience training classes will be held at the Burlingame Recreation Center Thursday evening Sept. 6 between 7:30 and 9 p. m. Registration can be made in person or by phoning the center at that time.

Four courses will be offered, a junior class in basic home obedience for owners 9 to 14 years of age, a class for adult beginners in basic home obedience, a class in novice competition training, and also a class in open competition training.

Registration will also be accepted on the first class night, September 13th, and dogs need not be brought until that evening.

Holiday Sales Course Offered At Adult School

Beginning Monday, September 17, and meeting for nine consecutive Mondays, will be a class entitled "Pre-Christmas Sales Training." Last year this class was able to place all of its students in San Francisco department stores in varying selling jobs.

The course will cover the following topics: Orientation to selling, business arithmetic review, cash register operation, fundamentals of salesmanship, different kinds of selling, retailing and human relations.

Pre-Christmas sales training is taught by Frank Terranova, business education teacher at Westmoor High School. Anyone interested in the class should register on September 17 at the first meeting of the class.

Adult School Offers First Aid Class

The Westmoor Adult Evening School announced this week that only one standardized first aid class will be offered this semester. It will meet each Tuesday, beginning on September 11, through October 29, in Room 25 from 7 to 10 p. m. Emmett Tierney will instruct the class.

Such topics as emergency first aid, accident prevention, items for a home or car first aid kit, and new techniques and discussions will be implemented by the use of timely films and demonstrations.

This class fulfills the graduation requirements of 2½ units for a diploma, and students who successfully pass it will be issued a Red Cross card.

Many Shop Classes At Adult School

The Adult Evening School has many industrial art classes open to both men and women who are interested in learning or improving skills

Five classes in woodworking or woodshop are available in each of the four main adult schools. The use of power equipment is featured and there are classes for the novice as well as the more experienced craftsman.

The instructor will explain the use of the latest power tools such as power saws, lathes, planer, jointer and numerous hand tools. Explanations will be furnished on paints, lacquers, stains, regarding projects. Limited wood supplies for many projects may be purchased through the school. Three automotive mechanics classes will be offered at Terra Nova, Westmoor and Jefferson Adult School. Consult the class schedule for times and days.

On Tuesday evenings at the Jefferson Adult School, Charles Slinger will instruct machine shop. This course instructs in the use of power equipment — turret lathes, drill presses, etc. Arc welding is offered on a limited basis.

District Adult School Adds 10 New Classes

Ten new classes are being offered starting the week of September 11 in response to public demand during the year.

A class taught by Roy Hammerich of San Francisco City College entitled "Cooking Specialized Dishes for the Family" will meet Thursday evenings at Jefferson Adult School. Registration in advance by calling PL 5-1162. Also meeting for the first time in over a year will be a class called "Posture and Exercises for Women," taught by Miss Loretta Barrious in the new Jefferson High School gym from 7 to 9:30 p. m.

Mrs. Thelma Cain will teach a new class at Oceana Adult School on Wednesday called "Children's Clothing and Beginning Dressmaking." She also teaches classes during the day at War Memorial Community Center on Tuesday and Thursday from 9 a. m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p. m.

Westmoor Adult School will feature the following new courses: A class by George Griffin entitled "About Communism" on Thursdays; "Philosophy of the Western World" taught by Peter Frank on Thursdays, and a "Chemistry and Physics Laboratory," also scheduled for Thursday evening.

Books and ideas, taught by Miss Juli Jansen, will discuss the modern novel and its many interpretations. The short story will also be featured.

In the business field, data processing - operations will be taught by Charles Tidd. Other data processing classes are "Systems," taught by Frank Cleary and introduction to data processing.

In homemaking at Westmoor Adult School is a new course, "Fundamentals of Knitting," taught by Mrs. Molly Coel on Thursdays. Also at Westmoor, Al Cornejo will assist students to a six week class relating to vocational counseling and guidance. This class meets on Mondays from 7 to 9 p. m.

California's school age group has grown nearly 50 per cent faster than the general population in the past decade.

ADULT STUDENTS find new and unused skills in an advanced painting class. More than ten art classes are held throughout the Jefferson High School district.

CSM Offers Industrial Management Courses

Motion Study and Methods Analysis, Personnal Administration, and Techniques of Supervision are among the 13 courses in varying aspects of industrial management currently being offered in a certificate program at the Evening College of the College of San Mateo this semester beginning September 11.

Now in its 7th year, the industrial management certificate program has already helped several residents adults to increase effectiveness in managerial positions on almost every level of industry throughout the Bay Area. Organized by an advisory committee of prominent industrialists in cooperation with the authorities of the Evening College, the content of the program is felt to have particular relevance to the local managerial picture.

A certificate in industrial management is awarded by the College of San Mateo after the student has completed a total of eight courses in the field. Four of these are required and cover the economic, technical, and analytical fundamentals upon which good management theory rests.

Four further classes may be chosen as electives from a group of some 11 more specialized courses, nine of which are being offered this semester.

Each of the courses, both required and elective, carries three units of lower division college credit. In addition, the total of 24 units demanded for the certificate also satisfies the requirement for an academic major for an Associate in Arts degree.

Under certain conditions, parallel courses completed at other institutions may be applied toward the CSM certificate upon submission of transcripts or official vertification of records.

Further information and brochures describing the content of the various courses in the program are available upon application to the office of the Evening College, DI 2-1421. Schedules listing the times and meeting places of all classes and detailing registration procedures can be picked up at most main and branch public libraries in the region.

More than eight sewing teachers stand ready to help adults who want to learn the sewing fundamentals relating to clothing construction and dressmaking.

On Tuesday, September 11, more than 3,000 adults will begin registrations in the Fall semester of the Jefferson District Adult Evening School.

Classes have been scheduled at four main locations in the Jefferson High School District. Most classes have been scheduled at Westmoor Adult School, with the balance slated for Jefferson, Terra Nova and new Oceana Adult Schools. Two adult schools, Oceana and Terra Nova, serve the needs of the city of Pacifica.

Increasing demand for more classes in the Adult Evening School has led to the largest schedule yet attempted. More than 130 classes will be taught this fall by a well qualified faculty of 82 teachers.

Several objectives may be reached within the main program. For example, the Americanization program is designed for persons who wish to obtain their citizenship papers or who wish to learn the English language. These classes are held at Jefferson, Terra Nova and Westmoor Adult Schools.

Also within the main program is a comprehensive academic program specifically designed for adults who are earning credit toward the completion of their high school diploma. Credit for work experience is given, such as in a work apprenticeship program.

In addition, two day Nursery Schools are in operation for pre-school children.

Classes are open to adults over 18 years of age, regardless of training, previous educational background, or residence requirements.

Printed brochures are now available listing all classes, times, and places. If you have not received a brochure, call PL 5-1162 and one will be mailed to your home promptly.

Enrollment procedure is as follows: Interested persons should go to school and classrooms for its first meeting, starting September 11. The instructor will provide registration cards as well as information relating to the class. A basic registration fee of $1 is charged. This means that adults are entitled to take as many as four different classes each week for the same price. However, some classes carry special materials fees in order to cover added or unusual expenses. In all, other classes, adults are expected to order and pay for their own textbooks.

The Fall semester begins Tuesday, September 11, and concludes January 31, 1963.

From A Feminine Viewpoint...

What shall I do? Mothers with children hear this complaint quite often and wish there was some place to take the youngsters where she could meet her friends while her children joined in wholesome fun activities with their friends.

To meet just such a need is the new Highlands Family Center that will be constructed this fall, centrally located in South San Francisco, just a few minutes drive down the Peninsula.

Spacious and modern in design, the new building will house a large swimming pool, bowling with automatic equipment, regulation size gym with organized staff on a year round basic supervised by a professional staff.

There will also be activities of interest to mothers such as fashion shows and luncheons. Good news, too, for mothers of small children, there will be a nursery.

The center will be open to everyone regardless of creed or denomination. Charter memberships are now available on a limited basis.

We think the whole idea is a very worthy project. It is so important that families share their activities together. For more information about the new recreation center, telephone JU 8-2634 or JU 3-3255.

A resident of the area for seven years, our selection for community leader this week became involved in volunteer community activities as soon as she arrived and has given very generously of her time.

Active in the Daly City Friends of the Library, she served as president, treasurer, recording secretary and board member. She was recently given a commendation from the Daly City library for her valuable assistance to the library.

Other activities include vice president of Delta Zeta, co-chairman of the YWCA book review and president of the parents' council at Lick. She also has been active in Girl Scouts, AAUW, and participated in all the local fund drives.

Now a resident of Westlake, she will be moving to North Sacramento where she and her husband will make their home.

We salute Mrs. Howard Stites, another dedicated community leader, who has contributed so much to the local area. She will be greatly missed by her many friends.

Miss Maria Arango Marries Frank Smith In High Noon Holy Nupitals

White gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the altar of Holy Name Catholic Church as Miss Maria Elena Arango took the name of Frank Smith in high noon nuptials on Saturday, August 25. The rites were performed by Father Edwin McCaffie.

The bride, daughter of Mrs. Blesila Guillen Arango of 744 Cordova court, Pacifica, was given in marriage by her uncle, Jose Guillet. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Smith, 223 Miramar avenue, San Francisco.

The bride was elegantly dressed in a strikingly feminine silk organza wedding gown, enhanced by a bateau neckline and a scalloped skirt with delicate chantilly lace edging.

Her headpiece was a stunning pillbox attached to a veiling of silk illusion. She carried a prayer-book with white lily of the valleys atop and surrounded by stephonotis and phaelanpsis orchids.

Mrs. R. R. Robinson, the bride's sister, performed the role of matron of honor.

She was attired in a mint green satin bell shape skirt with a lace bodice and elbow length sleeves. Her outfit was set off with a mint green satin rose veil. She carried an old fashioned nosegay of yellow carnations with mignonette.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Dimond and Miss Marie Smith. They wore dresses similar to the matron of honor.

Michael Smith was the best man. Ushers were John Kilgarif and Robert Davenport.

For the occasion, the bride's mother wore a silk chiffon dress of slight orange light-green print.

The benedict's mother was attired in an electric blue silk dress with matching accessories.

Following the ceremony, the new Mr. and Mrs. Smith greeted guests at a reception given at the Fox Hostess House.

For her honeymoon sojourn in Southern California, the bride chose a royal blue knit suit, with a while feather hat and pearl accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Presentation High School. The groom attended St. Eymedius Grammar School and was graduated from Riordan High School.

The couple will make their home in Westlake.

Rams Choice For North Peninsula Grid Title

By GARRY NIVER

All gleaming and resplendent in its colorful role, the brand spanking-new North Peninsula League prepares to unfurl its colors October 19.

The new NPL, which is one of the two splinters formed when the now-extinct Peninsula League burst at the seams, will have six teams this year.

Four of the six teams will be from the Jefferson High School district. Old War Horse Jefferson, tough Westmoor, hardluck Terra Nova and new baby Oceana are all new members of the North Peninsula League.

The other two teams, from the South San Francisco Unified School district, are Jeff's famed rival South City and new El Camino High School.

The six schools leave behind for the Mid Peninsula League, Capuchino, Crestmoor, Mills, Aragon, Burlingame, San Mateo and Hillsdale.

The new, compact NPL will open up October 19 with two games at 3 p. m. and one at 8 p. m.

Coach Pete Matisi's Westmoor Rams will give Oceana the indoctrination into the NPL varsity fraternity in an afternoon contest at Oceana.

Coach Joe McGrath's Indians also make their NPL debut on the coastside as they meet Floyd Gonella's Terra Nova Tigers in an afternoon contest.

In the night encounter, South San Franciso High School takes on cross-town rival El Camino under the arcs at Clifford Field at 8 p. m.

Westmoor Rams

The pre-season polls seem to have Westmoor High School picked for the first championship of the NPL. Matisi's Rams have a big seasoned line returning which is expected to play havoc on the other five teams.

"This is the first time in five years that I have had a good crop of veterans returning," said the optimistic Matisi..

The main problem at Westmoor seems to be finding a suitable replacement for graduated Steve Funai at the quarterback position. The Rams are expected to have a better balanced running attack this year.

Matisi thinks he has found the answer for the QB post in All PL baseballer Bruce Hix. Hix played defense last season and has switched over to the signal-calling job.

"He is a very accurate thrower and just as good a ball-handler as Funai," Matisi said.

Two other quarterbacks who will back up Hix are Mike Elston, up from the soph frosh, and Flip Reade.

Returning to the backfield, Matisi has the two Mikes — Barrish and DeBernardi. Barrish, weighing in at 190, is expected to lead the Rams on the power plays. The shifty DeBernardi weighs a light 150, but makes up for lack of weight in his speed. Both were starters on last year's club.

Coming back to his end position is 1961 All PL pass-catcher Steve Schmuck. The 5-10, 165-pounder, was the top end in the PL last year. At the other post is veteran Tito Torres. Letterman end Harry Johnson will fill out the pass snagging corps as a flanking back.

Another welcome sight to the vet-laden Rams are guards Roger Proia, 165 pounds, and Tony Thomas, 185 pounds. Both are returning starters from last yeär. First string center Joe Pignataro is also returning.

Both of 1961's first string tackles, Mike Bowers, 192 pounds, and Bob Hanson, 205, will be back at their posts. Up from the soph-frosh is 210 pound tackle Dan Hartmann.

Transfer student Bob Vantassell and sophomore Charles Murray are also expected to see plenty of action.

Reserve backfield men include Dave Mahoney, Ron Baker, Larry Homer and Barry Clanngelo.

Jefferson Indians

Coach Joe McGrath's charges are expected to finish in the third slot, behind South San Francisco. The hopes of Jefferson will ride on a stout line and a couple of transfer students.

Returning to the center position is two-year letterman Daryl Crist. Crist, 210 pounds, is fast, strong and probably the best center in the league.

Also returning to the Indian line is tackle Al Lonstrom, 170 pounds, the fastest offensive lineman on the squad.

Rick Waller, 190 pound tackle last year, has been switched over to the end spot. He is an excellent blocker and possesses a good pair of hands.

Veteran guards Armando Cardena, Rich Guerrero and Bob Silber all are expected to bolster the Indians' chances of an upset season.

The two transfers who are expected to make the Indians' stock rise are John Fernandez, a 190-pound guard from Balboa High, and Jerry Silverman, a 190-pound guard from San Digeo.

Second string 1961 quarterback Harry Ahuna is returning to the signal-calling post and is expected to be one of the better signal-callers in the league.

Another outstanding prospect at the quarterback slot is Archie Cordova. The 5-8 junior saw some action last year.

One of Alhuna's or Cordova's favorite targets will be end Ray Marshall. Marshall, a converted guard, has good speed and good hands.

Others expected to see plenty o faction are Bob Ryan, fullback; Leo Gotelli, halfback; Steve Farris, halfback; Don Fisicaro, quarterback; Gary Ciolino, fullback, and Al Banfield, center.

Terra Nova Tigers

For the first time in his three-year hitch as head coach at Terra Nova, Floyd Gonella has come to camp with a smile on his face.

The likable mentor has a host of veterans back and the Tigers, who have yet to win a varsity grid contest, could be the sleeper of the new league.

Heading the host of veterans is 1961 All PL Honorable Mention guard Manuel Pick. The hard-hitting senior weighs in at 185.

At the other guard is veteran Dan Gentry at 180 pounds. Returning tackles are Mike Lally, 225 pounds, and Ken Kirland, 195 pounds.

At center position, oGnella has big veteran Gary Prince at 200 pounds. Ends will be 204-pound Bill Hensley and 160-pound Bob Petitt, giving the Tigers the largest line in the league.

In the backfield will be veteran fullback Fred Mason at 205 pounds, and veteran Dennis Caruthers at halfback.

Jim Weidymiller and Chuck Humble fill out the Tiger backfield.

Gonella figures to switch his attack to the ground this year, taking advantage of the big line and the hard-charging backs.

Two frosh-soph halfback products who figure large in the 1962 Tigers plans are Rick Blagrove and Tony Salvomini.

Gonella feels that if the Tigers can overcome the losing attitude of last year, they will give a fair account of themselves this year.

Oceana Sharks

Coach Jess Jones' Sharks will probably have the rough going in the league this year. The coastside team is composed of sophomores and juniors and will be building for the fture.

The only veterans the brand-new school has are guards Happy Andrews and Mickey Nance, both transfers from Terra Nova High School.

Looking good at the quarterback slot has been Tom Summy. Fullback Steve Redmeister, 185 pounds, has also shown plenty of promise for the Sharks.

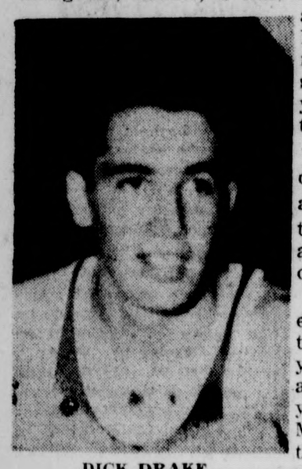
the winner's circle

By GARRY NIVER

A look around the boxing world today finds rather two outstanding loquacious characters, and one who tries to be.

We are speaking of Archie Moore, Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston. The former two had the gift of gab before they were in knee pants. The latter, Liston we are speaking of, has just discovered the secret of how to get a bigger gate with your mouth. How much prodding he has had by press agents in the quotes he has released to the papers, is left up to your own imagination.

The delightful thing about Cassius and the old mongoose, Archie, is that they are going to meet in a 10-rounder in Los Angeles. Both of them have a noted career. Archie's somewhat longer by 25 years, of spouting off at the mouth.



DICK DRAKE
. . . SF State Bound

And whether you like or dislike their verbose antics, you must admit that they have interjected a bit of color into the tired old game of boxing.

Moore is a little more experienced in talking than Cassius, but the youngster has a good start and within a couple of years could threaten Mr. Moore's world record of the-most-nonsensical-nonsense-spoken-in-public.

Fortunately for Clay, Moore's vocabulary, as well as his boxing prowess, is weakening under the strain of old age and he is well into the twilight zone of his career.

The rapacious Clay will be out to steal some of Archie's pride, along with his talking ability when the two meet in the squared circle later this month.

More, on the other hand, will be trying to show people that there is no such thing as old age, and that Clay's verbal outbursts do not carry the authenticity which old Archie's do.

Clay has threatened to level Moore in four rounds. The brash statement came after Achie had stated that Clay wasn't going to be around for the end of the affair.

Archie has since retired to his salt mine training camp just out of San Diego, and is working on his special "lip-buttoner" punch.

If old Arch can pull this one out of the fire (they are rated at even money), he could gain a title shot with Patterson or Liston, depending on how that debacle turns out.

Clay, if he just happens to chill Archie in four rounds, like he predicts, would also put himself up in the top contender's position.

Whichever way it turns out, it is a fight which is bound to generate plenty of interest. It is the press agents' dream because all he has to do is sit back and do nothing while the two gladiators hurl their barbed diatribes to the delight of the press.

Our only worry or concern is that the two fighters will wage such a spirited tongue wagging campaign prior to the fight that the night they climb into the ring they might be too tired to box.

It could happen that way — because it is a bout between the two most verbose athletes that the sports world has ever known.

ON THE SIDELINES . . . SSF's Dick Drake, 1962 All-Peninsula League cage "Player of the Year" has decided to enroll in SF State this semester.

Drake, originally scheduled for USF, has decided to try-out for the Gator team — which will undoubtedly make Coach Paul Rundell happy.

Winston Manor Tops Pee Wee Loop

The Winston nine went undefeated in this series of divisional games by besting Sun Valley Dairy in a game which saw the Merchants top Sun Valley, 6-1.

Tim Noxin, left fielder, made some key catches of balls that would have been extra base hits. Dave Gutierrez, shortstop, and Mike Peterson, thirdbase, also played well. Jack Campbell and Rich Venturini each collected three hits to lead the team offensively.

The Dairymen were held to four hits. Jeff Bennett, Sam King and Steve Teshara bunched base hits in the third to score the only run. Defensively, outstanding was John Lucia at third base, who played his base game of the season, while Frank Anderson covered shortstop very well.

Pal Chiefs 13, National Trophy 7

Ted Silva made a sparkling one-handed running catch in right field to prevent an extra base hit and stop a Trophy rally. Also playing well defensively for the Chiefs were Dennis Axell, shortstop, and Mike Davis, thirdbaseman. Art Olson was the big batter, banging out five hits, and Gary Stagnaro got three hits, including a triple.

The Drake boys, Tom and Mike, led the Trophy team this week both with their bats and their fine play on defense.

Brentwood Markets 9, Pal Sergeants 6

Tigers In Jr. World Series

Daly City's PAL Tigers, destroying everything in sight, advanced to the finals of the San Francisco recreation department's Junior World Series next Saturday, September 8.

Coaches George Pedroni, Bob Kramer, Jim Davis, Ron Krueger and Oscar Grimes bring their DC charges into Big Rec for a 10 a. m. clash with the Balboa PALers.

The berth in the title game represents a long, hard climb which found the locals winning 41 of 59 games.

Last week, behind the four-hit pitching of Jim Davis, they edged Funston, 5-4, to move into the finals.

Davis, performing superbly on the mound, struck out 13 and walked five.

The Tigers got off to a flying start in the first frame when Corky Phelps lashed out a bases-loaded double to drive in three runs. Phelps also tripled later in the game.

Both Telvis Jones and Nick Kosturos had two hits, the latter driving in a run.

Lame Runner Often Has "Unknown" Broken Leg

Many a quarter-miler has been running around on a broken leg without knowing it, three scientific sleuths have discovered. Called a "fatigue fracture," the break usually defies X-ray detection and masquerades as a sprain.

Concerned over reported instances of track athletes, particularly middle-distance runners, pulling up lame and staying that way for months despite negative X-ray findings and the usual treatments for sprain, a trio of UCLA investigators set out to learn why. The three were Dr. Martin Blazina and Dr. Robert Watanabe of the medical school faculty and track coach Elvin "Duffy" Drake.

Their findings, reported in "California Medicine," official scientific journal of the California Medical Association, showed that the fatigue fracture usually develops from intensive training on a hard track. Given a rest from training, the athlete usualys is relieved of pain "in three or four months" and the fracture heals itself. The healing process often provides te only X-ray evidence that a break had occurred.

Drake reported that most track coaches alternate soft- and hard-track training as a means of preventing these previously mysterious "sprains."

If the Giants are in the market for a righthander with a high price tag on him, I might suggest they sign Wally Bunker, a San Bruno lad who will be a senior at Capuchino High School this coming term.

He has been an all-league varsity performer ever since his freshman year, and he is so much in demand that the major league scouts were battling among themselves to see who would "farm him out" for summer activity these past three months.

Baltimore won the nod, and the Orioles ' scout, Don McShane, arranged for the hard-throwing 17-year-old to play in fast company up in Washington.

In Bunker's first start in Washington, he struck out 20 batters and registered a shut-out against competition which, reportedly, ranged in the area of Class B and C baseball.

Wally wasn't invincible, though. He lost a 4-0 decision to Fort Lewis, which, incidentally, ranks as one of the top service teams in the United States. The Fort Lewis tea mfeatured three major leaguers, including present Yankee shortstop, Tony Kubek, and a lineup of Class AA players or better.

Bunker, no stranger to Peninsula baseball fans, averaged 15 strikeouts per seven-inning high school game last spring. He also was a terrific hitter.

Every baseball scout is after him, not only because of his blazing speed and control, but because he also has size. He stands 6-2 and weighs 205 pounds.

That means that Wally is five pounds lighter than the biggest Little Leaguer in history, pitcher Ted Campbell, who took San Jose to a Little League world championship. But Bunker still is big enough and talented enough to make the scouts drool.

Win, lose, or draw, this has been a "gutty" year for Giant hitters.

Even with three pitchers threatening to win 20 games on the Giant staff this season, there has never been a time when the hitters could relax, even when the club had let by as many as eight runs.

Unlike Cincinnati or Los Angeles, the Giant pitching in late innings has been atrocious. Take Jack Sanford, for example: Sanford is strictly a six-inning pitcher, and he seldom wins those tight ones that go beyond seven heats. He also beats mostly second division clubs.

The Giant hitting, in direct opposite to the pitching, has never let up. It's this year's Giant bats that are making 20 game winners in San Francisco.

I have to call it an even-steven trade that saw the Giants get Billy Pierce and Don Larsen from the White Sox for Eddie Fisher and Don Zanni (and then some). Pierce has been good; Larsen not so. Meanwhile, Zanni is doing OK and Fisher has won some big ones for the Pale Hose against the front runners in the American League.

Chris Paloskudas, National League umpire, should have knocked on a Louisville before he made the statement that "twenty umpires will start the season and 20 will finish." He said it in reference to the many injuries and ailments that so often sideline the players. But Chris recently had to go under the knife for surgery and we can only hope that he's back in time to make good the statement. . . . Mike McCormick, at the time I wrote this article, had a record of 4-3 for the season, which means that he has been paid in excess of $4,000 for his total of seven decisions. And though it's been a miserable season for Mike, he is still assured of making at least 20 Gs next year. The Giants can't cut his salary more than 25 per cent.

Points to Ponder: Until this season, the Giants only 20 game winner since coming west has been Sam Jones, who won 21 in '59. The Giants have never had three 20 game winners in the club's history. . . . When the Dodgers play in Los Angeles, it's called "Dodger Stadium," and when the Angels play there it's called "Chavez Ravine." . . . Bob Bolin, whom I think is the next budding mound star in the National League, won 29 games at Eugene in 1959. . . . Says L. A. writer Frank Finch in the Sporting News: "Frank Howard is the one guy who could hit his weight (250) and still look good."

Disc jockey Al Collins announced recently that Maury Wills of the Dodgers has been selected as the Most Valuable Player in the National League in a poll taken at Folsom Prison.

He got the award for stealing so many bases.

World's Fastest Dragster To Perform At HMB Strip

The drag racing season will be highlighted this Saturday night, September 8, at Half Moon Bay drag strip by the appearance of the fastest and quickest double-engined sling shot dragster in the country.

Lefty Mudersbach from Los Angeles is the owner and driver of this fantastic car that drove him with speeds of 187 mph to victory at the 1961 United States fuel and gas championships in Bakersfield.

This Saturday Mudersbach will attempt to better his own world record and match speeds with the world's fastest and quickest Chevrolet and many other nationally known dragsters.

A total of $2,000 in awards and prizes to the winner promises to make this race an event you won't want to miss.

The event is sanctioned by the National Hot Rod Association. As usual, there will be a full schedule featuring all classes of stock and super-stock entries.

Activities start at 2 p. m. with eliminations at 8:30 p. m. Concessions and grandstands are available. Refreshments can be bought at the track. Children under 12 will be admitted free.

The Half Moon Bay drag strip is located 26 miles south of San Francisco on Coast Highway 1.

New Sport At Westlake Bowl To Aid Retarded Children

Ever heard of a "Honda-Bowl"? No? Could be, it's the first sports event of its kind ever to be mounted! And then, again, well, anyway, more than 30 Honda owner-drivers are going to take a stab at the game come Sunday, September 9.

First, some definitions are in order: (a) "Honda" is a very popular motor-bike, nominally priced and "made in Japan"; (b) "Bowl," singular of bowling, is one of America's popular and fastest growing indoor sports, Except in the case of this first "Honda Bowl" on record, the whole thing will be done outdoors.

According to Miss Susan Hanlon, in charge of arrangements for this event that is directly linked to the second annual Aid Retarded Children Bowling Tournament, the rules are being devised as the idea develops. A "LeMans" start will be required of all participants. Except in this case a bowling ball will be mounted on the dormant scooter. Competitors will then motor through an obstacle course and thence to the outdoor bowling lanes for the kegling.

All this is scheduled to take place in the Westlake Plaza, opposite Johnny Swanson's Westlake Bowl, starting at 10 a. m. Sunday, September 9.

Sharon Michols, the "Miss 300" of the current charity tourney running in 13 bowling centers through September 16, will be on hand at this novel event as will her court of young beauties to help with the show.

Incidentally, a "Honda 50" is one of the major prizes in the ARC tourney. It was donated by Honda of San Francisco through the offices of Reo Ogasowara and Robert Delorme.

The public is invited to came and join in the fun on September 9.

DC Midget Team Grabs Two Wins In SF Tourney

A Daly City Midget League team, composed of starts from the BYA and PAL teams, has advanced to the second round of the San Francisco Midget League tournament.

The locals, coached by Rich Brewer, Rock Kubowitz and Fred Belomini, grabbed their first two games last weekend by beating Silver Terrace, 4-1, and dumping the San Bruno Merchants, 5-1.

The two wins have installed the Daly City team as mild favorites in the tourney.

According to the coaches, "all the Daly City youths are batting over 300 and playing like seasoned veterans defensively."

vacation with the cost having been paid during the course of league bowling.

Bill will return next Friday to defend his title and shoot for the Jackpot which is now approaching $200.

Daytime bowlers are keeping an eye on Mrs. Davis as they register their children in the nursery waiting for her to say the magic word that the child is number 40,000. As in the past, the child will receive a savings bond while the mother will receive a Brunswick bowling ball and bag.

Two new clubs have been formed at Westlake, a 550 Club for the ladies and a 600 Club for the men. Starting with the opening of the winter leagues, as a bowler shoots these scores, he will receive a patch signifying membership in the Club. At the conclusion of the season, a roll-off will be held to determine the champs.

CSM Gridders Open Against Pasadena At SSF High Field

The best bargain in college football is available to College of San Mateo football fans this fall.

Followers of the local junior college gridiron squad, which was rated fourth in the nation last year, will be able to witness San Mateo's five 1962 home games with the purchase of a $2.50 season ticket. And the whole family gains admission on the same ticket —two adults plus all members of the same household under 21 years of age.

San Mateo opens its home season September 22 against Pasadena City College in a night practice contest at South San Francisco High School's Clifford Field.

Pasadena edged the Bulldogs, 12-7, in the initial game for both squads last year at Pasadena's Rose Bowl stadium. However, the Mateans came back to roll up nine straight victories en route to an undefeated season in the Big Eight Conference and a 6-0 downing of Allan Hancock for the mud-sloshed Prune Bowl title at San Jose.

CSM's first 1962 game is an away contest, September 15, against ex-conference rival Stockton College. The Golden Horseshoe trophy which San Mateo holds on the strength of its 14-6 defeat of the Mustangs in 1961 will again be at stake.

Both San Mateo and Stockton enter new leagues this fall as part of the shake-up of the state junior college athletic conference.

Stockton joins ex-Big Eight members Sacramento and Modesto in the new Valley Conference along with American River, Fresno and College of Sequoia.

The Golden Gate Conference is composed of eight teams circling the Bay to make up a compact and local league. Clockwise from San Mateo, the teams are City College of San Francisco, Contra Costa College, Diablo Valley College, Oakland City College, Chabet College, San Jose City College and Foothill College.

League opener for CSM is against Diablo Valley on Saturday, October 6, at 2 p. m. on the San Mateo High School field. Contra Costa follows on the next Saturday.

After inaugurating a new rivalry at southern neighbor Foothill College on October 20, the Bulldogs return to San Mateo for homecoming activities and a tussle with City College of San Francisco on October 27.

New Chabet College in San Leandro closes CSM's home season on November 3. A night game at San Jose on November 9 and a Saturday afternoon clash at Oakland on November 17 finish the 1962 San Mateo schedule.

Family season tickets, good for all five home games, may be purchased by mail from the college or from local merchants. No phone orders will be accepted.

Checks for $2.50 should be made payable to the Associated Students, College of San Mateo, and sent to Athletic News Service, College of San Mateo, San Mateo, Calif.

Foreign Language Programs Slated At Olympia, F. Rivera

Parent groups from Olympia and Fernando Rivera schools will continue sponsorship of a foreign Language Enrichment Program this fall. Classes in Spanish and French will be offered to children between grades one and six. All children in these grades are eligible to enroll.

Dr. Manuel H. Guerra, KQED Spanish teacher and Consultant of Foreign Languages, will direct the program. Costs of tuition and educational materials will be $19.50. Classes will start the week of September 17, and will be held at Olympia School. In order to accomodate both parents and children, classes will be held on Saturdays from 10 to 11 a.m. Inquiries should be addressed to Mrs. Murray H. Freedman, PL 5-8981, or Mrs. Harold Mahan, PL 6-1096.

Daly City parents may be interested to know some facts about FLES (Foreign Languages in the Eelementary Schools). Since World War II, FLES has become a national trend. America's need to communicate among its allies, new travel opportunities for American citizens and foreigners, technological advances of faster jet air travel and inter-continental TV, and the need for better world understanding are but a few of the reasons for its rapid growth.

However, educational reasons and goals parallel this national conscience. For example, research study confirms that children learn faster and better before the age of ten; after this age, children begin to develop inhibitions and psychological barriers. Children mimic and imitate basic patterns of new sounds and develop the ear for the language. There are fewer barriers, greater willingness to repeat aloud, and better pronunciation response. Moreover, children develop sympathetic attitudes toward the differences of people, and indirectly learn a basic democratic lesson.

Whenever children sing songs or play games in the second language they broaden their horizons of understanding and awaken new interests and values. Both understanding and speaking are primary goals of instruction, followed closely by reading and writing.

Repitition, continuity, and opportunity to use the language are vitally important. Children of Olympia and Rivera learn conversational Spanish and French from native teachers, and they read and write what they have heard and spoken. Because of popular interest, enrollment will be limited on a first come first serve basis.

Doctors

MEDICINE is practiced among the Egyptians on a plan of separation. Each physician treats a single disorder, and no more. Thus the country swarms with medical practitioners, some undertaking to cure diseases of the eye, others of the head, others again of the teeth, others of the intestines, and some of those ailments which are not local.

Sometimes give your services for nothing, calling to mind a previous benefaction or present satisfaction. And if there be an opportunity of serving one who is a stranger in financial straits, give full assistance to all such. For where there is love of man, there is also love of art.

Baked Beans for the Crowd

Whether the jovial, hungry group has just returned from a beach outing, ball game or bus tour, they'll enjoy any summertime snack that's spiced with Savory Baked Beans prepared in this special way. Here's how to give baked beans from the can—an all-time favorite complement to hot dogs, hamburgers or sizzling steak—that extra flavor appeal:

SAVORY BAKED BEANS

2 cans (1 lb. 12 oz. each) baked beans
1 cup catsup
1½ Tbsp. L&P Worcestershire
4 Tbsp. brown sugar
4 Tbsp. lemon juice
1 tsp. dry mustard
1 or 2 dashes of Tabasco
1 large onion, very thinly sliced

Combine catsup, L&P Worcestershire, brown sugar, lemon juice, mustard and Tabasco. Turn 1 can of beans into a 2-quart casserole. Cover with half the sliced onion and pour over half the sauce. By ARTEMUS BIERCE

This week we have decided to take a trip into the dark alleys of the jazz world and explore the resurrection of the blues.

The blues is a form of art which is truly and wholly a part of our American heritage. Our current contemporary forms of jazz music, and even the dated Dixieland, has its roots in the traditional twelve bar, three stanza blues form.

The origin of the blues is somewhat hazy and difficult to trace. It is known that some parts of the blues came over on the slave boats from Africa and that some of the melody can be traced back to the Greeks. Where the melodies, lyrics and rhythms became integrated is still somewhat of a mystery. It is known that the blues singer was perpetuated in America during the times of slavery.

Currently, there is a resurrection of the blues which has brought this form of art back into focus. The blues is a pure and succinct type of music. It is the personal fight of the Negro against society in simple rhythm and clear, poignant lyrics. The persecution incurred by the slaves in the South was put forth in music which was simple, but nevertheless told the story of hardships and depicted the life of the Negro in a beautiful, but raw, poetic art form. Today the persecution still exists and many Negroes fell that they have to sing about it. In the blues you will find no superfluous phrases and the lyrics must be listened to closely to capture the true meaning.

It is just during the past three years that the blues has risen to be recognized by the so-called sophisticated set. Back in the 1920s and 1930s, the blues was fairly well recognized with such singers as Bessie Smith, Leadbelly and Blind Lemon Jefferson purveying the art. Then as times became prosperous, the people sort of forgot about the blues and the blues-shouter found it hard to eke out a living.

The music was still present, but the audience was not, and the singer was forced into rhythm-and-blues, which is a cluttered up, boisterous offshoot of the blues geared to a more popular level.

But the blues had a natural infinity and was destined to reappear. In 1958, the Newport Jazz Festival featured a young blues-shouter who completely captivated the audience. His name was Ray Charles and he is currently the "high priest" of the blues singers. If anybody has seen Charles in person they can understand his vast popularity. His singing is void of the usual physical gyration which accompany the present day singers.

Blind since he was five years old, Charles just sits at the piano and lets his voice and soul do the work. If he feels sad, the sad blues are emitted, and if he feels happy, the uproarous and rollicking blues flow forth. His greatest asset in popularity is his ability to improvise as he sings and Charles never sings the same sony the same way twice.

Charles is a representative of the urban or "citified" blues. The other type of blues is the rural or "country" blues. The most talented exponent of this type is a Texas Negro named Sam "Lightnin' " Hopkins. His blues are clear, symbolic of heartbreak and full of ironic humor. Accompanying himself on the guitar, Hopkins typifies the vagrant blues-shouter at the turn of the century.

The blues is back and here and stay. The art in blues singing is finally being appreciated, with the historians delving back into the obscure blues history to find its origin and to recapture art which has been assimilated into the culture. Blues singers are once again able to leave rhythm-and-blues and return to their first love — the blues. The current trend has developed a rash of shouters, some authentic and some not. This is all part of the resurrection of the blues.

While still on the subject of music??? Daly City real estate agent Lam Balopulos reports to us that down at Christmas Village near Santa Cruz he ran into a chicken which does the twist — and only for one thin dime. I wonder if his name is 'Chubby Chicken', ah, the chicken that is, not Lam.

by Jack Wood

GHOUL MORNING TO YOU . . . Grandma Kroeger, who washed her clothes in Daly City, ate breakfast here and occasionally took a nip at one of the local bars, also made out her income tax in this FAIR city, a tip from local police disclosed.

Mrs. Kroeger, who was said to be a very sharp dealer in financial matters . . . even given to emphasiing her points with a pistol . . . was the picture of righteousness on the local SCENE, according to realtor Walter Eutenier, who made out her income tax.

"I knew her quite well," Entenier said.

"She was about five feet one inch tall . . . a bit thick in the middle . . . "She talks with a very righteous attitude . . . wants to be extremely correct —and wouldn't put anything down she couldn't verify.

"She's a radical on it. She stresses it," Entenier affirmed.

Sergeant Charles Terry, of the Daly City force, was a witness last Wednesday when judges and lawyers blew up a firecracker in the northern municipal court.

The judge was not immediately convinced that four firecrackers found on Dewey Lee Jones, 25, of 433 Hewitt drive, Pacifica, were the real thing. He wanted proof. Jerry Ragan, assistant district attorney, supplied the match . . . and, POW! Jones was fined $50.

They're starting to throw trash around at Thornton Beach, only shortly after it is completed.

A local fisherman recently back from Thornton Beach, remarked he liked the new parking lot and access road, but was just a little disgusted by the way the public makes an immediate mess.

JUST A MINOR POINT — Calvin Malone, city planner, pointed out in a last week's Times front page story on city tax loss from the new proposed Junipero Serra Freeway, that the city is losing only 20 per cent of the ZONED land along Junipero Serra, not 20 per cent of all oned land in the city.

Malone pointed out that so far as land actually to be damaged is concerned, Daly City will escape relatively unscathed . . . compared to some other cities.

"I've seen some freeways and how they operate in other cities," said Malone, "and I think that actually Daly City is coming out quite well.

"When a freeway goes through city property and leaves little bits and pieces along the right-of-way . . . such as seen in one Oregon town . . . then it is pretty bad," he said.

Westlake Bakery Features Seven European Bakers

The Grand Re-Opening of Andersen's Westlake Bakery will be held this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 6 through 8, at the Westlake Shopping Center location.

The bakery, taken over by the Denmark-born Andersen four months ago, has undergone extensive remodelling in both the sales shop and kitchen.

The bakery, which adjoins the Westlake Food Center, will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays, and from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Wednesdays and Fridays.

For this week's three-day reopening celebration, the bakery will serve free coffee and give away cakes every half-hour.

The bakery will specialize in European and Danish pastries, using original European recipes. The special pastries and cakes will be sold exclusively at the Westlake shop.

Andersen, who has over 30 years experience in the baking business as a baker, employes 15 workers, including seven specialized European bakers.

One of the outstanding bakers, Arthur Kupillas, won a third place ribbon in the Western United States Restaurant Convention in San Francisco last week. Kupillas' entry was a cake.

Aside from the special European and Danish pastries, the bakery will also feature specialized cakes for weddings, birthdays and anniversarys, and Danish and European cookies.

The cakes will be decorated according to the customer's specifications, upon request.

Other special features of the Westlake Bakery will include imported Scandinavian candies and kringles, the traditional Danish birthday delicacy.

Andersen, who is assisted by his wife, Hilva, and daughter, Annette, at the Westlake Bakery, started his career in Denmark. He later practiced the baker's art in Germany, France and England, assimilating the various forms of traditional baking in the respective countries. He came to the United States in 1948.

Prior to his opening of the Westlake Bakery, Andersen was associated with Fantasia, famed Northern California confectioners.

The California Neon Company in Walnut Creek, representing the Gateway Chevrolet Company of Daly City, has withdrawn its request to build a king-size 90-foot high sign in the company's used car lot at 7401 Mission street. The request will be considered again September 25.

Planning Commission members expressed disapproval of plans for the sign, which was to have a revolving Golden Gate Bridge replica on top, set off by "scintillating light effects."

Betty Anderson, secretary of the planning commission, said plans called for a double-poled sign with the words "Home of 90 Days or 4,000 Miles," 40 feet from the ground.

Above this is another sign reading "Chevrolet," and atop that "Gateway." Above that was to be the rotating replica of the Golden Gate Bridge and on top of that a flashing strobe light.

Fire Mountain Pageant Sept. 8

The Guerneville Chamber of Commerce reported final plans have been completed for the 15th annual pageant of Fire Mountain, to be held Saturday and Sunday, September 8 and 9 at Johnson's Beach on the Russian River.

This year's show will include a historical tableau in commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the founding of Fort Ross on the Sonoma County coast by the then Czarist Russians, in 1812.

Making their first appearance in the pageant will be a group of 40 Russian folk dancers under the direction of Anatol Jaukowsky, formerly dancemaster at the Belgrade Street Theater and now a professor at San Francisco State College. The groups presented by Professor Jaukowsky will perform authentic Russian folk dances and will wear costumes of their native land handed down from generation to generation.

Based upon an ancient legend, the pageant tells the story of two warring tribes brought together by Princess Pale Moon and Prince Fleet Foot. A 500-foot high mountain bursts into flames to highlight the production, while torch-bearing Indian braves canoe down the river.

An advance sale of reserved section seats is now being conducted by the Guerneville office of the chamber of commerce, or may be purchased by mailing a request to the chamber at Box 331, Guerneville, Calif.
